2. Best Execution Factors and Criteria

The Company takes all sufficient steps to act in the best interest of its Customers when executing Customer's Orders and obtain the best possible result for Customers taking into account the following factors when dealing with Customers Orders: price, cost, speed, likelihood of execution and settlement, size, market impact or any other consideration relevant to the execution of an order. The Company does not consider the above list exhaustive. The costs that the clients are charged, include all the expenses that are directly related to the order execution. The related expenses include the clearing, settlement, execution venue fees and any other fees paid to third parties that are involved in the execution process.

The application of Best execution does not guarantee that the transaction will be fully executed, nor the best price will be obtained.

The Company when executing Clients' Orders is required under the relevant regulatory framework to assign a relative importance on the following execution factors:

a. Price

Price is the most important factor for the company when considering best execution. Prices are obtained from industry leading institutions. Our team continuously monitor the data feeds and internal pricing mechanisms to ensure the quality of the price generation process. Data feeds, pricing and connectivity are assessed in real time. Company updates its prices as frequently as the limitations of technology and communications links allow. The Company reviews its third party external reference sources in frequent periods to ensure that the data obtained continues to remain competitive.

b. Cost

Cost is an important factor when execute Clients' orders. In order to keep the costs low, we source the best available prices from our liquidity providers. For opening a position in some types of CFDs the Client may be required to pay commission and/or financing fees, the amount of which is disclosed on the Company's website and/or trading platforms. Commissions may be charged either in the form of a percentage of the overall value of the trade or as fixed amounts. In the case of financing fees, the value of opened positions in some types of CFDs is increased or reduced by a daily financing fee "swap rate" throughout the life of the contract. Financing fees are based on prevailing market interest rates, which may vary over time. Details of daily financing fees applied are available on the Company's website and/or trading platforms.

c. Speed of Execution

The Company places a significant importance when executing Client's Orders and strives to offer high speed of execution within the limitations of technology and communication links.

d. Likelihood of Execution

The Company may not be able to execute the order at the best available price or the transaction may fail to complete as stated in our Order Execution Policy. Although the Company strives to execute all orders placed by the clients, it reserves the right to decline an order of any type or execute the order at the first available market price.

e. Likelihood of Settlement

The CFDs offered by the Company do not involve the delivery of the underlying asset, so there is no settlement as there would be for example if the Customer had bought shares.

f. Size of Order

The minimum size of an order may be different for each asset type and/or financial instrument. A Lot is unit measuring the transaction amount and it is different for each type of Financial Instrument. Please refer to the website and/or platform for the value of minimum size of an order or minimum Lot for a given CFD type. The Company reserves the right to decline an order as stated in the Client Agreement entered with the Client.

g. Market Impact

Some market factors may affect rapidly the Company's quoted price of the Financial Instruments. These factors may, in turn, affect some of the other execution factors listed above. The Company takes all sufficient steps to obtain the best possible result for its Clients. For details on how each factor is assessed ex ante when executing clients' orders please refer to the Company's Order Execution Policy. Where the client provides the Company with a specific instruction in relation to his/her/it order or any part of it, including selection of execution venues, the Company will execute that order in accordance with those specific instructions and, in doing so, it will have complied with its obligations to provide the best possible results to the extent that those instructions are followed.

The Company monitors the arrangements described in this Statement in order to identify any deficiencies and to assess whether we need to make any changes. This monitoring includes the monitoring of the performance of connected parties and other third parties to whom we may engage in the future to transmit Client orders to.

The Company monitors on an ongoing basis its execution arrangements by checking the orders executed and evaluates them taking into consideration the below:

Finally, the above monitoring procedure is under the review of the Control functions of the Company, namely the Compliance and Internal Audit functions which report directly to the Board of Directors of the Company their findings and recommendations on an annual basis at least.
